SUMMER EATING.—We eat to keep warm and to sustain strength, and all articles of food have those two elements in varying proportion. Oils, tallow and whale blubber are almost wholly of the warming element; hence in Greenland, where the thermometer is many degrees below zero, and a great deal of heat is required, a native will drink half a dozen gallons of oil every day, or eat ten pounds of tallow. In the hottest climates of the world the inhabitants live to a great extent on fruits and vegetables, which have but very little of the heating qualities. In our climate, which is between the two, meats, vegetables and fruits are eaten all the year round, but if eaten judiciously, if eaten according to the season—more of fruits and vegetables in summer and less of meats and fats—an incalculable amount of sickness would be prevented every year. We would think a man deranged who should keep as large fires burning in his house in summer as in winter, and yet we all persist in eating meats and fats and butter all through the summer. Meats and butter are on our tables three times a day, when in reality they ought to be sparingly used during the summer months, at least by the young, the old and feeble, and by all who are most of the time in door, or who have no active employment. For the classes just named a very appropriate diet for the summer would be as follows:—Breakfast—Cold bread and butter, a slice of cold meat or in its place a couple of eggs, or a saucer of berries or stewed fruit without milk, cream, or sugar. The same for dinner, with one vegetable, no other desert. For supper—cold bread and butter, and a cup of hot drink, and nothing else; nothing whatever between meals. So far from starving on such a diet the class of persons above named would thrive on it, would grow stronger, would have more bodily vigor, more mental elasticity, and a greater flow of animal spirit, and for the reason that fat would eat too much; there would be nothing to overstimulate the appetite, hence the stomach would not be over-worked; what it did perform would be well done; the blood made would be pure, life-giving, and energizing. Any man of ordinary intelligence and observation, who will give a fair trial to the above system of feeding, will scarcely fail to be convinced of its value within a week after he begins it.—Journal of Health.

A GREAT FARMER'S MAXIMS.—The successful life of Mr. Jacob Strawn—"the prince of American farmers"—is attributed to the close observance of the following maxims, originated by himself.

When you wake up, do not roll over, but roll out; it will give you time to ditch all your sloughs, break them, harrow them, and sow them with timothy and red clover. One bushel of clover to two bushels of timothy is enough. Make your fencing high and strong, so that it will keep cattle and pigs out.

If you have brush, make your lots secure, and keep your hogs from the cattle; for if the corn is kept clean they will eat it better than if it is not. Be sure to get your hands to bed by seven o'clock; they will rise early by force of circumstances. Pay a hand, if he is a poor one, all you promise him; if he is a good hand, pay him a little more; it will encourage him to do still better.

Always feed your hands as well as you do yourself; for the laboring men are the bone and sinew of the land, and ought to be well treated.

I am satisfied that getting up early, industry and regular habits, are the best medicine ever prescribed for health.

When rainy, bad weather comes, so that you can't work out doors, cut, split, and haul your wood. Make your racks, fix your fence or a gate that is off its hinges, or weatherboard your barn where the wind has blown the siding off, or patch the roof of your barn or house.

Study your interest closely, and do not spend any time in electing Presidents, Senators, and other such officers, or talking of hard times when spending your time in whitening store boxes, etc.

Take your time and make calculations; don't do things in a hurry, but do them at the right time, and keep your mind as well as your body employed.

SINGULAR CASE OF FEMALE ADVENTURE.—One of the most remarkable instances of woman's attachment to man and heroism under adversity came to our notice to-day. To begin at the commencement, we will state that in 1860, a young lady in the city of Auburn, N. Y., the daughter of wealthy parents, eloped with a young man named Niles, a railroad engineer, and both proceeded to Cleveland Ohio, and afterwards to Toledo. They were pursued by an infuriated brother of the young lady, and in the latter place, to avoid detection, after the marriage ceremony had been performed, the young lady arrayed herself in male attire. In this disguise, and while selling apples, she passed her brother several times on the street without recognition on his part. Shortly afterward, early in the war, the two went south to Nashville, Tennessee, where Niles procured employment as a locomotive engineer, his wife engaging as fireman, still keeping up her disguise. Between Nashville and Chattanooga a shot from a rebel inflicted a serious wound upon the engineer, and he was taken to the Government hospital at Murfreesboro. There, his wife followed, and to her careful nursing. Niles owes his life to her. When sufficiently recovered to endure the hardships of traveling they returned to Cleveland. A few months later the alleged gold discoveries at Mandock, Canada, attracted them thither, and the wife accompanied her husband, still in masculine garments. The vicissitudes of her career, exposed to hardships and accidents, were too severe, however, and a few weeks since she died at Cleveland, after a brief illness. Niles, who is now in this city, is a man about 40 years of age, and does not refer to the heroic devotion of his wife but in terms of the warmest admiration.—Ohio Northwestern.

SIMMONS' LIVER
The symptoms of Liver Complaint are uneasiness and pain in the side. Sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and is mistaken for rheumatism. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general constive, sometimes alternating with laxity. Often complaining of weakness, debility and low spirits. Sometimes many of the above symptoms attend the disease, and at other times very few of them; but the liver is generally the organ most involved. Cure the liver with

THE FOLLOWING WILL BE READ WITH INTEREST:
Under date of April 26th, 1871, Dr. HENRY J. ROGERS, of Sharp street, Baltimore, an eminent physician, writes regarding

CRYSTAL DISCOVERY:
"It affords me much pleasure to bear testimony as to the efficacy of your Crystal Discovery. Some years since, while in India, I suffered from a severe fever peculiar to the country. On my recovering, a patch of hair on the left side of my head became perfectly white, without at all affecting the remainder. To remove this unsightly appearance, I had recourse to various preparations, both in Europe and in this country; but they all had one great defect—they dyed the hair black. Now, with your Crystal Discovery, I can get the desired shade—the natural color of my hair being dark brown. I consider your Discovery the best preparation I know of."

Yours truly,
HENRY J. ROGERS.

Now as the fact becomes more patent every day that the various dirty and filthy preparations advertised as Renewers, Restoratives, &c., are but compounds of Sugar of Lead and Sulphur, and therefore should be shunned by all who value their health, it is scarcely a matter of surprise that the demand for NATTAN'S CRYSTAL DISCOVERY, admitted to be perfectly harmless, and yet accomplish all, and more, than the poisonous articles claim to do, should have increased so rapidly. It restores the color and growth of the hair positively in a few days; strengthens the roots, makes an excellent dressing, soiling neither clothes nor scalp; but on the contrary it gives the scalp a pure and cleanly look, removing all dandruff and scurf. It is the most economical preparation in use. Put up in large bottles, at one dollar.

SEWING MACHINES.

HOWE'S IMPROVED Lock-Stitch Sewing Machines

Are world-renowned for durability and simplicity of machinery, the perfection of the tensions, and the unparalleled wide range of work they are capable of performing without change or readjustment.

At the great "Exposition Universelle" in Paris, in 1867, they were awarded the highest prize—a massive Gold Medal—over 82 competitors, and the Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor was conferred on Elias Howe as the original inventor of the Sewing Machine.

The growing appreciation of their characteristic excellence by the intelligent people of this country was clearly shown by the unprecedented sales of the Howe Sewing Machine during the past year, being far in excess of those of any other one patent.

More than 1000 of these excellent machines are in daily use in the cities of Washington and Georgetown, and of this very large number a single case of dissatisfaction cannot be found.

They make the "Howe," or "Lock-Stitch," which has the same beautiful appearance on either side of the fabric sewed, and they are the only machines that make this beautiful stitch to perfection.

A branch office has been recently established at No. 105, King street. If you are prejudiced in favor of any particular machine, at least examine the Howe before you purchase. Remember that Mr. Howe was the original inventor of the Sewing Machine, and gave twenty years of his life to perfecting this machine.

Every Howe Machine is warranted for ten years' constant use by the company, and is kept always in perfect order by the local agency.

Purchasers are thoroughly instructed at their residences, by competent instructresses, in every variety of plain and ornamental sewing.

An efficient lady operator will be in constant attendance at the office, and machine stitching of every description will be neatly and promptly executed.

THE BALTIMORE PARLOR QUEEN.
New Patent Non-Fuel-Burning
PARLOR FIRE PLACE STOVE.

Mr. S. B. Sexton is the original inventor of the Illuminating Baltimore Fire Place Heaters. His several succeeding patents have been improvements, until this last is the superior of them all. It is the most popular and best placed stove in beauty of finish, tasteful carving, and in heating power. It is the result of twenty-two years' practical experience in inventing and manufacturing Fire Place Stoves, and combines all the improvements of our former Stoves, with additional improvements made this present season.

This Stove is a decided success. Several hundred of them were put up in dwellings during the latter part of the Fall and during the Winter, and we have received many testimonials giving them the highest praise for powerful heating capacity and economy in the consumption of fuel.

THE DINING ROOM QUEEN.—We have added a new Fire Place Stove to our list this season. This Stove is suitable for dining rooms. It is very ornamental and would answer for parlors also. It has the convenience of a large oven, which can be used for warming plates, and heating irons, as well as baking and boiling.

We also manufacture the BALTIM
